Both the town and lake are sheltered by picturesque mountains. The town's symbol is the island that reigns proudly in the middle of this pristine Alpine lake. Legend says that ancient Slavs worshiped the goddess of love and fertility Živa on the island. Today the island is a Christian pilgrimage site with its church of St Mary. On the top of the cliff rising vertically 100 m above the lake stands a mighty castle. Bled is one of the oldest tourist destinations in Slovenia, dating back to the 19th century.
